4 – BILLS

4.1 Where and when bills are sent

- a) We will send your bills to the mailing or e-mail address you advise us of. If we do not have a valid e-mail or mailing address for you, we will mail your bills to your premises and you will be deemed to have received them. You may need to pay a charge for us to mail bills.
- b) We will bill you no more frequently than once a month. We will always bill you at least every three months unless you have agreed to a longer billing period. We may change the billing period by notice to you, but we will not change it to less than one month without your consent or in accordance with the relevant regulations.

4.2 Bills based on meter readings

- a) We will usually base your bills on readings of your meter. We will use our best endeavours to obtain metering data as frequently as required to prepare your bills. In any event, we will use best endeavours to ensure that your distributor reads your meter at least once every 12 months.
- b) If we ask you, you can agree to read the meter yourself and provide the results to us, in which case, we will bill you on the basis of your meter readings (subject to clause 4.2e) of this contract).
- c) We can provide you with a bill based on estimated usage if:
 - i. access to the meter is denied due to your action or that of a third party, or due to weather conditions, an industrial dispute
 - ii. or other reasons beyond our control;
 - iii. you are leaving your premises and need a final bill immediately;
 - iv. access to your meter is denied for safety reasons;
 - v. the meter or ancillary equipment has recorded usage incorrectly; or
 - vi. the meter has been tampered with or bypassed.
- d) If we need to base your bill on estimated usage, we can do so based on:
 - i. your reading of the meter;
 - ii. your prior billing history with us;
 - iii. if we don't have your prior billing history, then we can use:
 - a) the average usage of gas at the supply charge that applies to you;
 - b) the average for your equipment; or
 - c) the average usage at your premises.
- e) If we provide you with a bill based on estimated usage and we are later able to read your meter, then we will adjust the estimated bill in accordance with the meter reading, unless:
 - i. the estimated bill was used to finalise your account; or
 - ii. we accepted your reading as the meter reading to base the bill on and the subsequent reading shows an error in your favour.
- f) If we provide you with a bill based on estimated usage because you denied us access to your meter, and you subsequently request that we replace an estimated bill with a bill based on a reading of your meter, then we will do so as long as you allow us access to the meter and pay any reasonable charge we request.

4.3 Information your bill will include

- a) Your bill will show your gas usage in units, which are calculated by applying the heating value (which is the amount of energy in the gas) to the amount of gas you used. If applicable, we can calculate your consumption through the measurement of gas from a master meter and utilise other measurement devices to determine your individual usage.
- b) Your bill will separately itemise the charges, including the fixed component and the usage component of the supply charge (see clause 3.2 above for more information) and any charges related to the supply of gas such as connection fees.
- c) The following information will be included on your bill:

- i. your name and account number;
 - ii. your premises and any relevant mailing address;
 - iii. the amount due;
 - iv. the due date;

 - xii. a 24 hour contact telephone number for faults and emergencies;
 - xiii. the amount of arrears or credit; xiv. the amount of any other charge and details of the service provided;
 - xv. a statement that a late payment fee may apply for payments after the due date;
 - xvi. the average daily consumption and cost;
 - xvii. details of any security deposit you've provided;
 - xviii. if you're a residential customer, a reference to any concessions available to you from us and any Government concessions that may be available;
 - xix. the availability of a meter accuracy test if you pay a testing charge, which will be refunded if the meter is found to be outside the margin of error;
 - xx. the availability of interpreter services; and
 - xxi. a telephone number to contact if you are experiencing financial difficulties.
- d) If we provide you with other goods and services, then unless agreed otherwise with you, we will include the charges for those goods and services as separate items on your bill together with a description of those goods and services. We will apply any payment received from you as directed by you, or if you don't give us any direction:
- i. to the amount due for your gas use before applying it to the additional goods and services; or
 - ii. if the goods or services include electricity, to the amount due for your gas use and electricity use in equal proportion before applying it to any other additional goods and services.

4.4 You can request reviews of bills

- a) You can ask us to review your bill. We will respond in accordance with our standard complaints and dispute resolution procedures. In the meantime, we may require you to pay the bill (or some of it).
- b) You can request to have your meter or meter data tested as part of a review. You may have to pay for the cost of the test in advance if the law allows us to require advance payment. If the test finds that the meter or meter data is faulty and you have paid in advance we'll refund any amount you've paid for the test. If the test finds that the meter and meter data is not faulty and you have not paid for the cost of the test in advance then we may require you to pay for the cost of the meter test.
- c) If a review uncovers an error, we will adjust the bill. Otherwise, you must pay the unpaid amount of the bill.

4.5 Overcharging

If you are overcharged, we will inform you of the overcharging and repay you the overcharged amount in accordance with the relevant regulations.

4.6 Undercharging

If you are undercharged (which includes if you are not charged at all), we may recover from you some or all of the amount owed to us. If the undercharge is a result of our error, the amount we can recover is capped at the amount undercharged over the 12 months up until the date we notified you about the undercharge, and we will let you pay us over a period matching how long we undercharged you, capped at 12 months.

If we have undercharged you as a result of fraud by you or use of gas otherwise than in accordance with this contract, we may recover all amounts undercharged and take action against you.

5 – PAYING YOUR BILL

5.1 When and how you have to pay

- a) You must pay your charges by the pay-by date stated on your bill. Your bill is not paid until we actually receive the funds. If your payment is due on a non-business day, you can pay that amount on the next business day.
- b) You can pay your bill in full using a range of options, including:
 - i. over the counter in person at a third party retailer or outlet specified on your bill;
 - ii. by mail; or
 - iii. by any of the other methods specified on your bill
- c) If we sell you both electricity and gas we will apply payments to each account as you direct or, if you do not give us a direction, to your oldest debts first.
- d) You can ask us to pay your bill in advance or have your bill redirected if you are going to be absent for a long period of time, or if you are unable to arrange payment using any of the methods on your bill.

5.2 Security deposits

You may have to pay us a security deposit. We will keep any security deposit in a separate trust account, and it will be separately identified in our accounting records. We will pay interest on any security deposit you provide at the bank bill rate. That interest will accrue daily and will be capitalized every 90 days unless paid. We can apply any security deposit and accrued interest against amounts you owe us under the contract if:

- a) you fail to pay a bill, resulting in the disconnection of your premises;
- b) you fail to pay a final bill;
- c) you fail to pay a bill and you agree that we can use the security deposit to avoid us disconnecting you;
- d) you ask us to do so when you are leaving your premises or you have requested the disconnection of your premises; or
- e) you transfer to another retailer and you still owe us an amount.

If we use your security deposit, we will give you an account of its use and refund the balance (if any) within 10 business days. If we no longer need any security deposit, we will return the security deposit and interest to you.

5.3 Payment difficulties

If you cannot pay your bill or are experiencing financial hardship, let us know. If you are a residential customer and have told us that you are having difficulty paying your bill then we will offer you:

- additional time to pay a bill;
- instalment plan options;
- the right to have a bill redirected to a third party;
- information about, and referral to, Government assistance programs; and
- information on independent financial counselling services.

We can also choose to offer you other arrangements which give you time to pay your bill. If you have had 2 instalment plans cancelled in the last 12 months due to non-payment, then we will not offer you an instalment plan unless we're satisfied that you'll comply with the plan.

5.4 Late payments

If you have not paid your bill in full by the pay-by date, then (unless you've requested a review of your bill) we may:

- require you to pay a late payment fee in accordance with the relevant regulations;
- apply any security deposit we are holding;
- issue a reminder notice;
- issue a disconnection warning;
- disconnect your premises;
- subject to the relevant regulations, ask a debt collection agency to obtain the payment from you;
- rely on other rights we have under the contract; and
- if you're a business customer, charge you interest on any overdue amounts (but only if we haven't charged you a late payment fee or if the late payment fee doesn't fully compensate us for our costs and losses from your failure to pay).

We will not commence legal proceedings for the recovery of an amount you owe us if you are a residential customer and:

- you have entered into a payment arrangement with us and you are complying with the terms of that arrangement; or
- you have informed us that you are experiencing payment difficulties or financial hardship and (if we have assessed that you are) we have offered you assistance.

6 – YOUR OTHER OBLIGATIONS

6.1 How you use gas

In using gas at your premises, you must comply with the law. You must:

- not cause any interference within the distribution network;
- not take any supply of gas otherwise than from the distribution network; and

- give us, your distributor and other relevant people (including any meter service provider), who will show you their official identification if you ask, safe, convenient, easy and unrestricted access to your premises, your equipment, the gas supply equipment, the distribution network and the meter at your premises including to read the meter, to install gas supply equipment, to inspect or work on your equipment or the gas supply equipment, or for any other reason relating to the supply of gas at your premises.

- Title to and risk in gas supplied to your premises will pass to you at the point of connection between the distribution network and your equipment.
- You acknowledge that the meter is owned by a third party (generally either your distributor, a meter service provider, or us) and title will not pass to you at any time.

7 – YOUR DISTRIBUTOR, YOUR GAS SUPPLY AND SUPPLY INTERRUPTIONS

7.1 Our distributor

Your distributor is responsible for the connection between the distribution network and your premises and for the physical supply of gas to your premises including the quality and reliability of the gas supplied. You must cooperate with any reasonable requests your distributor makes of you.

7.2 Our limited role

We are a gas retailer and do not control the physical supply of gas. We can ask your distributor to connect your premises to the distribution network, which we will do at your request. We will also arrange for your distributor to physically supply gas to your premises. Except to that extent or as otherwise provided by law, we cannot control the way in which the distributor operates the distribution network, and we are not liable to you for ensuring the physical supply of gas or the safety, quality, continuity, reliability or pressure of that supply.

7.3 Your gas supply

Gas supplied to your premises may be subject to quality or pressure variations or deficiencies.

7.4 Supply interruptions may occur

The quality, continuity, reliability and pressure of your gas supply is subject to a variety of factors, including accidents, emergencies, weather conditions, vandalism, system demand, the technical limitations of the distribution network and acts of other persons (including your distributor). Accordingly, the supply of gas to your premises may be interrupted. Examples of when supply may be interrupted include:

- where required by your distributor or another person;
- where there is insufficient gas or system capacity to meet the needs of all consumers;
- for inspection, repairs, testing, maintenance or other works; or
- in an emergency or for safety reasons.

7.5 Keeping one another informed about supply interruptions

- We will try to inform you about supply interruptions, and we'll follow any notice requirements set out in the relevant regulations.
- If you let us know that your supply is interrupted, we will tell your distributor.

8 – DISCONNECTION

8.1 When you could be disconnected

We may arrange for your gas to be disconnected in the following circumstances, unless we're prohibited from doing so under the relevant regulations or we say we won't in clause 8.3:

- if you ask us to;
- if you fail to pay charges or other amounts on your bill relating to the supply of gas by the due date;
- if you don't agree to an offer of an instalment plan or other payment option to pay for charges or other amounts relating to the supply of gas;
- if you haven't paid in accordance with an agreed payment plan for charges or other amounts relating to the supply of gas;
- if your premises couldn't be accessed to read the meter for the purposes of issuing three consecutive bills and:
 - we've given you an opportunity to offer reasonable alternative access arrangements;
 - each time your premises couldn't be accessed, we've given you 5 business days' written notice of the next scheduled meter reading and requested access at that time; and
 - we've given you at least 5 business days' notice of our intention to arrange for you to be disconnected;
- in the case of an emergency, in which case we, or your distributor, will provide, by way of a 24 hour emergency line, information on the nature of the emergency and an estimate of the time when supply will be restored and use best endeavours to arrange for reconnection as soon as possible;
- for health and safety reasons, but only if (except in an emergency or where there is a need to reduce the risk of fire or where the relevant regulations require it) we have:
 - given you written notice of the reason for
 - the disconnection;
 - given you 5 business days to fix the reason for the disconnection (if you are able to do so); and

- iv. after the expiry of that 5 business day period, given you 5 business days' notice of our intention to disconnect you by way of a written disconnection warning;

- i) if you've obtained supply in breach of any relevant regulations;

If you are disconnected, you may be required to pay a disconnection fee.

8.2 What we'll do before we disconnect you

- a) If you have failed to pay your bill, including if you haven't agreed to an offer of an instalment plan or other payment option, or you haven't paid in accordance with such a plan or option (see clauses 8.1b) to 8.1d) above), then before we disconnect you, we will:
 - i. use our best endeavours to contact you personally;
 - ii. give you a written reminder notice not less than 14 business days after the date on which the bill was issued, advising you that payment is overdue and requiring you to pay by a date specified in the notice (which will be at least 20 business days after the date the bill was issued);
 - iii. if payment is not made by the date specified in the reminder notice, give you a written disconnection warning not less than 22 business days after the date the bill was issued, advising you that you will be disconnected unless you pay by the day specified in the disconnection warning (which will be at least 10 business days after the date of the disconnection warning);
- iv. if you are a residential customer, offer you an instalment plan or other payment option such as an extension of time to pay (if we haven't already done so) and give you information about government concessions (and give you at least 5 business days to accept that offer); and
- v. if you are a business customer, offer you an extension of time to pay (and give you at least 5 business days to accept that offer).
- b) If we give you a disconnection warning (see clause 8.2a)iii) above), then we won't disconnect you until at least 1 business day after the date specified in the warning.

8.3 When we won't disconnect you

Unless disconnection:

- a) was requested by you;
- b) is required by law;
- c) occurred for emergency reasons;
- d) was the result of a planned interruption (including a temporary unavailability of supply from the distribution network to you due to planned work); or
- e) was to prevent unauthorised use of gas (including if you have obtained any supply of gas at your premises otherwise than in accordance with the relevant regulations), we will not disconnect you if:

- f) you have provided us with a written statement from a medical practitioner (registered under the Health Practitioner Regulation National Law (WA) Act 2010) stating that supply is necessary to protect the health of a person who lives at your premises, and you have entered into arrangements acceptable to us in relation to payment for gas supplied;
- g) the amount you owe us is less than an average bill over the last 12 months, and you have agreed to repay the amount;
- h) you have made a complaint, including to the Ombudsman, which directly relates to the reason for the proposed disconnection and which remains unresolved;
- i) you have made an application for a government grant or concession and the application has not yet been decided;

- m) you've accepted an instalment plan or other payment option, unless, after accepting, you don't take any reasonable action towards settling the debt within the time specified in the plan.

8.4 Reconnection

- a) If you ask us to, we must arrange for your gas supply to be reconnected if:
 - i. within 10 business days after disconnection for non-payment of a bill, you pay the overdue amount or make an arrangement with us for its payment;
 - ii. within 10 business days after disconnection for denial of access to a meter, you provide access to the meter;

- b) If you are entitled to be reconnected and you make the request for reconnection:
 - i. before 3.00pm on a business day, we will use our best endeavours to get your distributor to reconnect you on the day of the request;
 - ii. after 3.00pm on a business day, we will use our best endeavours to get your distributor to reconnect you as soon as possible on the next business day; or
 - iii. after 3.00pm but before 5.00pm on a business day, we will use our best endeavours to get your distributor to reconnect you on the same business day if you pay the after-hours reconnection fee.

9 – TERMINATION OF THE CONTRACT

9.1 Termination when you give us notice

You can terminate the contract by giving us 3 business days' notice.

9.2 Termination by us

 - ii. we have disconnected supply at all of your premises that are covered by this contract.

9.3 Termination when you move out of your premises

- a) If you are moving out of your premises, you'll need to give us at least 3 business days' notice indicating that you wish to terminate the contract. You must include the date you are moving out in your notice, as well as a forwarding address to which we can send you a final bill.
- b) We will do what we can to have your meter read on the date specified in your notice, or as soon as practicable after that date if there are difficulties accessing your meter.
- c) The contract will terminate when you move out. However, you will still have to pay your final bill which will cover the period up until when we have read your meter.
- d) If you do not give us notice that you are moving out, the contract will continue after you have moved out. You will have to pay for gas supplied to your premises even if someone else is using it.

9.4 Automatic termination

- a) If you enter into a new contract for the supply of gas with us, this contract will end on the expiry of the cooling off period (if any) specified in the new contract.

10 – YOU CEASING TO BE A SMALL CUSTOMER

10.1 Let us know of significant changes

You must tell us if the amount of gas you use at your premises changes significantly, or if you cease to purchase gas at your premises principally for personal, household or domestic use. This is because this may mean you are no longer a small customer.

10.2 New arrangements

If you are no longer a small customer at your premises then:

- a) we can charge you for the gas supplied to your premises at rates we consider are reasonably necessary to recover from you all costs we incur in connection with selling you that gas plus the same margin we recover from similar customers;
